

Discovery

Take Control of Your Discovery

You asked.

The discovery process has become more complicated, daunting and costly due to today's unprecedented amounts of electronic information. How can I balance my resources more effectively?

We delivered.

With the Kroll Ontrack advantage, our superior processes, expert consultants and innovative technology produce measurable efficiencies. Our suite of comprehensive services support you before, during and after every case.

Gain Control of Your Data with Affordable, Scalable Solutions

Efficient management of electronically stored information (ESI) is key to a successful litigation, regulatory inquiry or internal investigation. The proper handling of data, from collection through production, greatly affects the outcome of a case.

Legal teams have few steadfast principles by which to conduct discovery most effectively. It is often difficult to determine what data is accessible, what guidelines must be followed and how to maintain consistency from case to case.

Let Our Experts and Technology Serve as an Extension of Your Internal Resources

Rely on Kroll Ontrack to provide the best discovery solutions for your needs and budget. We specialize in efficient, defensible and affordable discovery through proven on-site data collection, robust processing, innovative search technology, strategic consulting and advanced review services. From locating and preserving ESI through review and production, we can support and streamline your experience at every stage of the process.

Your Advantage

Working with one industry-leading service provider, one set of tools, one project manager, one contract and one invoice is your advantage.

Investing in a relationship with an expert who provides comprehensive, end-to-end service and consulting across the Electronic Discovery Reference Model (EDRM) will save you time and money, minimize errors and support your commitment to provide competent and zealous advocacy. We offer scalable technologies, defensible processes and strategic consulting to manage your workload and costs.

On-Site Discovery Case Management

Leverage our years of industry experience when working with your clients or stakeholders. Design, implement and manage case timelines, budgets and resources to meet discovery obligations.

Technical Expert Assistance When Responding to Discovery

Facilitating meaningful conversations between outside counsel and corporate IT personnel is our speciality. Kroll Ontrack has knowledgeable experts that can help identify and anticipate technical issues before they arise. In addition, our consultants will help you accurately and comprehensively respond to written discovery directed at your IT systems or ESI identification and production plans. We also help prepare for a Rule 26(f) conference or act as your 30(b)(6) witness.

Electronic Discovery

We are pioneers in developing the technology and processes that have fostered the growth of the industry's best practices. From global on-site data collection resources to efficient and affordable document review and production, we work tirelessly to find solutions to your litigation challenges.

Paper and Audio Discovery

Our scalable paper discovery processes – scanning, optical character recognition (OCR), and domestic and international coding – ensure that you can quickly search and edit text. Our cutting-edge phonetic search technology in Ontrack Inview enables users to easily sift through voicemail messages, recordings and unified messages faster than listening to or transcribing thousands of hours of audio files.

Multilingual Discovery

Easily support global litigation through our Ontrack Inview review tool's enhanced multilingual identification, search, translation and support for Western European, Eastern European and Eastern Asian languages. Use our translation technologies to translate one word, one line or an entire document.

Document Review

With our in-house document review facility, automated workflow processes and experienced legal professionals, we provide law firms and corporations with fast, efficient and defensible document review and production – on time and within budget.

Discover the Possibilities

- » Proven on-site collection protocol
- » Experienced consulting, project management and technical support
- » Early data assessment and analytic reports
- » Multilingual processing capabilities
- » Advanced searching capabilities
- » Innovative processes and technology
- » Efficient, defensible and cost-effective document review
- » Statistical sampling

For more information, call or visit us online.

800.347.6105 in the U.S. and Canada

+1.952.937.1107

www.krollontrack.com